What does that 5th grade class do?

Religion: We are learning about the judges of Israel. We learned recently about Gideon and how he defeated the Midianites with only 300 men using jars, torches, and trumpets. We also met Deborah and Samson.

English: We are continuing our work on our personal narrative. We are beginning the process of writing a rough draft. The actual rough draft is due Monday.

Reading: Groups are beginning to finish their books. Some are working on projects. Projects this time deal with a plot diagram and re-writing a scene from a different character's point of view.

Math: This week we started with a test and then continued on through our lessons. We learned a new trick about multiplying with zeros and had some fun with probability.

Science: We are finishing chapter 7 and having an activity on Monday that will count as our test grade for this chapter.

Social Studies: We finished chapter 7 with a test on Thursday. We are going to learn more about the American Revolution in the next chapter!
